Add built-in storage to bifold doors

Bifold closet doors are a handy option when you don't want doors to swing too far into the room and interfere with furniture. Closet doors open to reveal a hidden bar area in this San Francisco dining room designed by Emily Stegner-Schwartz and Lisa Odyniec, coprincipals at ES|LO Design Studio. Built-in shelving for wine glasses is an additional space saver in the well-designed closet.
